

EMMEH 2025 SUMMER SCHOOL
28th June – 12th July 2025 | Lille, France

‘Prospects & Innovation for Euro-Mediterranean & Middle East Heritage – Conservation, Restoration, Valorisation: from Concept to Action.’

The EMMEH 2025 summer school is a high-standard 60-hour training programme focusing on the climatic, technological, and societal challenges faced by cultural heritage in North Africa's Mediterranean regions, the Middle East, and Europe.

Coorganised by the Faculty of Humanities of the University of Lille (largest French university at the crossroads of North-Western Europe) and the International Academy Lille HdF (summer university for international students in Hauts-de-France), EMMEH 2025 will take place in Lille from Saturday 28th June to Saturday 12th July.

Valuing heritage to learn, innovate, and inspire!

Midway between Paris, London and Brussels, at the heart of a high-performance academic and economic hub that makes innovation a priority, the programme will offer high-level scientific lectures delivered in English by renowned specialists in the field, and a lead into research through a supervised project assessed by an oral defence.
ECTS: 5 credits.

Challenge your scientific potential!

As a research-oriented programme, the summer school is dedicated to Master's & PhD students willing to network into their PhD or postdoc in France. Excellent Bachelor's students are accepted (from 3rd year undergraduate). Scholars and professionals are welcome to apply. The participants should have an advanced level of English proficiency (B2 certified) as well as excellent academic results and in-depth knowledge in heritage.
